

NHS GPs are under contract to go 'Digital First'. This means that as many services as possible must be offered through 'digital platforms'. In practice it has meant that non- face to face appointments have become the norm.

WE SAY!

- Train and employ enough doctors to bring Britain back up to European standards
- No de-skilling of doctors and nurses
- Face to face appointments with doctors and practice nurses as the norm
- No to privatisation, no to profiteering from public need
- And no to charging to see a GP
